Dean Announces New Major Fields

A new department and major field will be offered by the College of Education, announced Dean Frank Gorman. The department is the Library Science with Miss Ellen Lord, OU librarian as head. Assisting her as assistant professors are Frank Gibson and Kilbourne Janacek. The Major is in Women's Physical Education.

"The demand for Library Science teachers and Women P.E. instructors far exceeds the current supply," said Dr. Gorman. "Since all high school districts belonging to the North Central Association requires one teacher qualified to conduct a Library Science course, the field is unlimited."

The Library Department will be a 24 hour major and will prepare school librarians for either elementary or secondary schools. The courses will begin this summer, and will be offered in both day and night school next fall.

The P.E. Major courses will be under the direction of Miss Vera Duerschner. The major may be taken in either the elementary or secondary levels.

Mrs. Thelma Engle announced that "there are thousands of jobs for teachers." She said that many of the OU graduates will stay in Omaha to teach, but that there will be a few going to Minneapolis, Chicago, North Platte, Ralston and Westside. Elementary teachers are being placed rapidly in the Omaha schools.

Annuals to Arrive At OU May 19

Tomahawks will be distributed May 19. This date was released by Larry Boersma, editor of the 1953 annual, yesterday. Students must have been in school both first and second semesters of this year to receive a Tomahawk.

The annuals will be distributed through the Box Office.

There will be a window display publicizing the arrival of the Tomahawk.

The staff of the 1954 Tomahawk have been collecting pictures of all the spring activities for the next year's annual.

Detroit Ships Shrdlu Back to OU Untried

The Press Club's racing turtle, Shrdlu, is on his way home from Detroit. He wasn't a winner, not even a loser. In fact, Shrdlu didn't even get to show off his ability.

Lack of interest in the University of Detroit's annual Turtle Trudge forced Pi Kappa Delta, journalism fraternity, to cancel the race. The entrance fee and an explanatory letter from the fraternity said that the Press Club's candidate for Queen of the Trudge, Corinne Houser, "was received with enthusiasm."

Student Writers, Broadcasters Plan for Sixth KBON Day

Personnel for the sixth annual KBON Day have been announced. The annual event will be next Thursday.

Fourteen students in the University's Radio and TV News-writing class will write newscasts during the day. They include Dave Langevin, Dan Langevin, Larry Means, Joan Olsen, Wilbur Andersen, Phyllis Brisby and Janet Anderson.

Others are Bob Rasmussen, Paul Cherling, Dick Kimball, Lee Nelson, Bob Peck, Georgia Redfield and Geoffrey Berry.

Radio announcers include Robert Erickson, Lew Radcliffe, Richard May, Richard Smith, Ray Nasr, Cliff Soubler, Anita Reznicek, Marcia Morris, Marilyn Sibert, Don Blocker and Jim Erickson. All are staff members on KWOU.

Robert Dvorak will write continuity. Lyle Nicklin will be engineer. Mary Louise Griffin will

Registration Begins Monday; Students Urged to Enroll Now

Registration for fall classes will begin Monday and continue through Friday. "I especially urge students to register now," said Miss Alice Smith, Registrar. "They will save their time and their counselor's time."

Early registration will give students a good choice of hours. The procedure for registration is as follows:

1. Pick up registration forms in the Registrar's office May 11-15.
2. Make out a tentative schedule of classes.
3. See Counselor. Seniors and students with special problems such as carrying more than 16 hours, should see their academic dean for approval of program.
4. Return the completed registration forms to the Registrar.

The Registrar will send the tuition statement during the summer months, and the student has to pay the fee. Summer school registration forms will not be available until June 1. Miss Smith asked that students interested in summer school contact their counselors. "We expect about half of the current student body to enroll during this spring registration period," said Miss Smith.

APO Heads Annual Campus Blood Drive

Alpha Phi Omega, Omaha University's service fraternity, is again heading the annual Omaha U. blood drive. This year's campaign will run Thursday and Friday on the OU campus.

Group Hears Union Designs

Ideas on the plans for the proposed Student Union Building were still in the discussion stage at the weekly meeting of the Student Union Committee, Tuesday afternoon.

The Committee tentatively agreed that the dining halls and ballroom should face east to lend the campus and the school activities a concentrating touch.

In accordance with this plan, there would be two entrances to the Student Union Building instead of the proposed one entrance.

Also discussed and recommended was the establishment of two serving lines to replace the planned one line in the dining halls.

The dormitories will be housed in the two wings extending west and will be integrated more closely to the building.

Bowling alleys, originally planned to be situated beneath one of the dormitory wings, are now slated to be tunnelled in the space between the wings. This move would restrict the noise that conflict with the dorm facilities.

AF Teams Will Enlist OU Pilots, Observers

An Aviation Cadet Selection Team of two officers and two enlisted men will interview prospective pilots and radar observers next Friday and Monday, May 15 and 18. Any man between the ages of 19 and 26½ with two years of college education is eligible for consideration.

Maj. William W. Wilson will head the team. The pilot training is one year; radar observer, six months. All candidates will serve from 18 months to two years after training is completed. The Air Force will transport candidates to Denver for the Classification Tests.

Haddad to Play Tonight at Peony

Marilyn Rogers, Chi Omega, was crowned Princess Attira XIX this morning by President Milo Bail. Miss Rogers will wear the traditional doeskin robe and she and her attendants will ride on the Princess float in the parade.

The attendants are Millicent Wheeler, Syntha Judd, Leonore Marx, and Ann Pane.

The new Princess was crowned by President Milo Bail in traditional ceremonies. Student Council President Raymond Hampton presented her with a bouquet of flowers.

Before the presentation of the Princess, OU students gathered for the annual breakfast beginning today's Ma-le Day activities. The breakfast included tomato juice, pancakes, ham and coffee.

Parade Begins at 10:45

The parade will begin at 10:45 a. m. The floats must form in the parade line with eight decorated cars between each float. The order of floats will be APO, Sigma Kappa, Pi Kappa Alpha, Theta Chi, Chi Omega, Student Council, Independents, Phi Epsilon Pi, Alpha Xi Delta, Lambda Chi Alpha, Zeta Tau Alpha and Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Four Judges

There will be four judges who will rate each float for originality, completeness of theme, workmanship and conduct on the float. The floats will be judged three different times.

No student cars are allowed in the parking lots from 7 a. m. to noon. City Park Department has given the University students permission to park along the Elmwood roads for today only. Decorated cars, which have been registered for the parade, will enter the parade line as it passes through the park. All cars in the parade must have a sticker number in the window.

Same Parade Route

The parade route will be the same as reported in last Friday's Gateway. The floats will go east on Dodge Street to Forty-second, then south to Farnam; east on Farnam to Thirtieth, and south on Thirtieth to "L." From there the parade will go west to Twenty-fourth, south to "Q" and west on "Q" to Sixtieth, then north on Sixtieth to Elmwood Park.

The parade will stop momentarily at Twenty-fourth and "M" streets while the Honorary Colonel of South High, Miss Mary Ann Straley, presents a flowered key to Princess Attira XIX.

Skits Begin at 1:15

The seven skits will begin at 1:15 p. m. Charley Simpson will be M. C., and Jack Irwin's combo will entertain between skits.

The order of skits is as follows: Sigma Kappa, 1:15-1:40; Zeta Tau Alpha, 1:40-2:05; Chi Omega, 2:05-2:30; Sigma Phi Epsilon, 2:30-2:55; Alpha Xi Delta, 2:55-3:20; Pi Kappa Alpha, 3:20-3:45; and Theta Chi, 3:45-4:10.

Awards for the winning skits, floats and five best-decorated cars will be announced tonight at the Ma-le Day Dance. Three faculty members will judge the cars.

Three Skit Winners

There will be an award for the best boys' skit and the best girls' skit. A third award will be given for the best all-around skit. The float awards will be first, second and third places.

Hampton will present the awards.

Student's Council

A recent controversy concerning the all-school election has brought a few pertinent facts out into the open.

The controversy: A petition protesting the all-school election was brought before the Student Council. The complaint was based on the fact that "special" students voted. The University rules state that a student must be carrying a minimum load of 12 credit hours to participate in extra-curricular activities. Therefore, the first mix-up concerns student elections. Are they considered extra-curricular? Secondly: Council members must be elected by members of the respective classes. Are "special" students considered to be in a class?

The Rules: The Student Handbook is ambiguous. The Handbook does not state clearly whether "special" students are considered eligible to vote. The Handbook does state that the Council members are elected by students, but no where does it give a definition of a student. The Handbook must be revised.

The Student Council: The problem of having a re-election or not having a re-election revealed a growing tendency of the Council which was admitted by Council members. They seemed to be divided into two camps: those who would benefit by a re-election and those who would not benefit by a re-election.

We elect our Student Council representatives to represent the student body—not themselves or one group. The Council is a lot of work. Anyone who agrees to serve on the Student Council for individual glory and prestige is in for a shock. Because Council members are not remembered individually, but for what they accomplish for the student body. A council working for individuals will be infamous. Perhaps the Council needs a nucleus of diversified interests: Greek, Independent and Unaffiliated.

Clown 'Kewpy' Doll Will Strut in Parade

Laugh, clown, laugh!

The Maie Day parade will have a clown leading the parade today through downtown Omaha and South Omaha. Bill "Kewpy" Doll is the funny man. But "Kewpy" is more than a clown; he's a poetic clown, the author of the three-minute poem.

The nickname "Kewpy" was a natural. He received the dubious title while a student at Iowa State College.

Poetic Clown

He turned clown-poet about three years ago during a rodeo in Southern California. And, "I've been roaming the country ever since."

"Kewpy" has led parades, entertained at private parties, and written poetry in all sections of the country.

Bill has spent most of his time the past year in Southwest Iowa and Eastern Nebraska. He was head clown at the Council Bluffs Festival days last year, and had the honor of leading the Shenandoah, Ia., celebration parade for President Truman.

Leads Truman

"Kewpy" proudly added that with his snake dancing down the streets, he received more applause than President Truman.

Last year, "Kewpy" compiled and published a book of his poetry. He gets his ideas for his poems from "places I've been, people I've met, and news events

I've read about."

Poem Dedication

His poems are dedicated to "all who are bored, to all who are tired, to all who are discouraged, and to all who do not like poetry."

Omaha University students won't miss "Kewpy" as he snake dances down the street, attired in his red beanie, plaid shirt and pants, and parade cane.

Letters To The Editor

Last Monday saw one of the greatest miscarriages of justice this campus has ever seen. On that day, the sole representative body of this school prostituted their moral judgment for personal prejudices and gains.

A protest was submitted concerning the recent election. It seems that 17 persons were allowed to participate in class elections who were not entitled to the privilege. This the Council admitted—yet this body sanctioned this breach of faith with the student body by permitting the election to continue as previously announced.

This action by the council has now as much as said to the student body—"We don't have to obey the rules." By setting this precedent, subsequent Councils can become more and more corrupted to the point of complete nonrepresentation.

This action of the Council was done despite a legal and valid petition and the advice of the combined Deans of Student Affairs. It is my fervent hope that the future Councils will not be so immature and self-centered as this Council has proven itself to be.

Happy Agreement

All artists seem to ask for the opinions of laymen concerning their creations—and all laymen—at least the peaceful or tactful ones answer affirmatively.

On the set of a recent University production, the creative genius asked two on-lookers whether they liked his brainchild. In quick succession came the answers: "I do"—"I do."

And just as quick came the retort from backstage: "I now pronounce you mah and wife."

OUWI Schedules Honors Banquet

OUWI will hold its third annual Honors Banquet Monday, May 11. The dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. in the House and Garden Room of the Blackstone Hotel. Tickets can be purchased today from organization representatives of OUWI and women's physical education instructors.

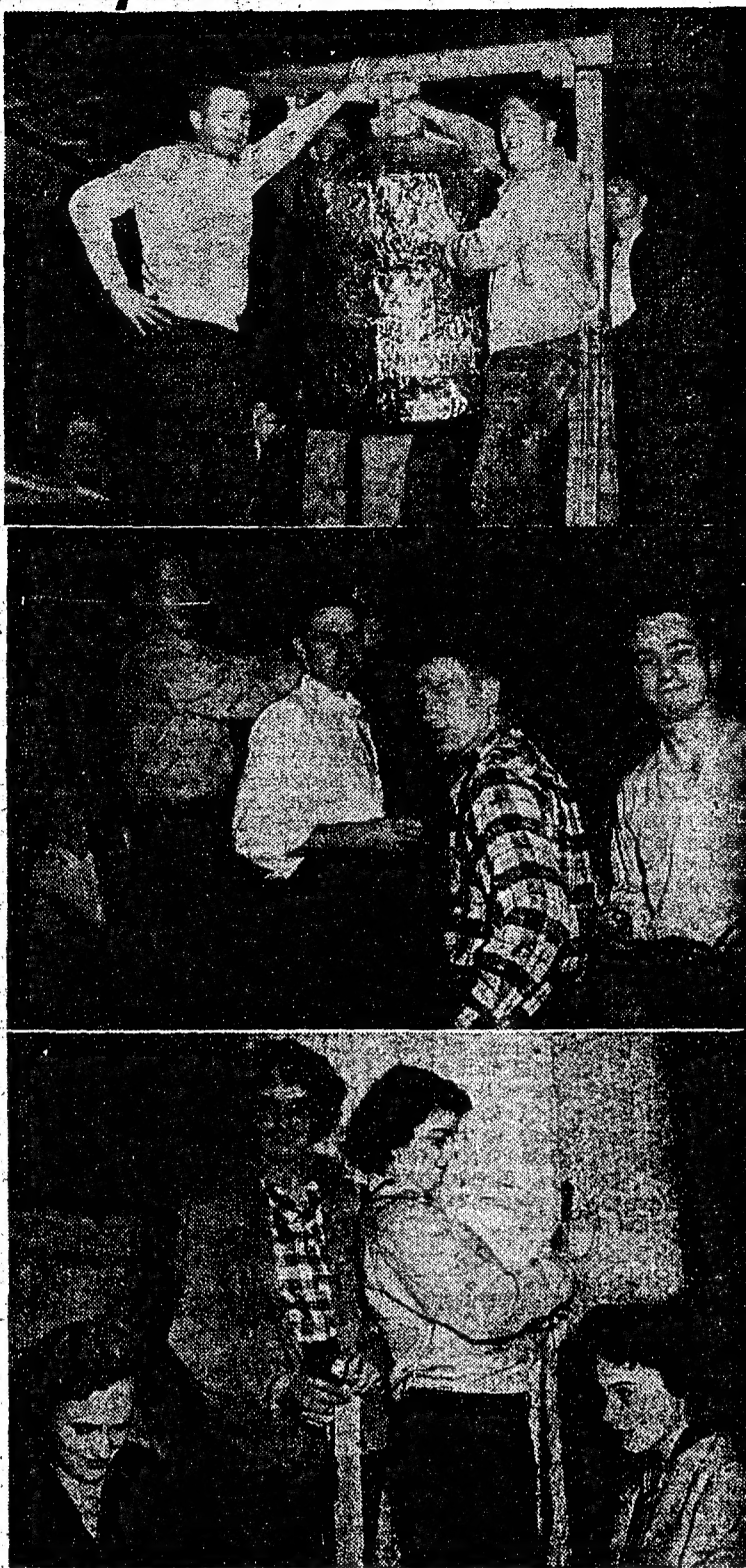

Maj. Whaley Briefs Colonel

Barbara Zimmerman, who will serve Angel's Flight as Honorary Colonel for the Air Force ROTC next year, was initiated into her new duties in an unusual manner. In line with the Air Force's security policy, Maj. Robert Whaley took the precaution of securing Barb in his vault for 55 minutes while he told her she had been elected and explained the responsibilities of her job. Barbara says that, although she was surprised, she didn't "really appreciate the honor until Saturday morning."

Barbara is a junior, majoring in Elementary Education. She plans to begin teaching as soon as she graduates.

Barb is a member of Chi Omega sorority, and has served as personnel chairman and worked on the Rush Board. She is active in Future Teacher's of America, women's athletic association, University Player's and Alpha Psi Omega, Honorary Dramatic Fraternity. She played the lead in OU's fall play, "Goodbye My Fancy."

Holiday Preview . . .

1. Six Ep's were taking advantage of the free holiday and were building a liberty bell.
2. Camera happy Independents mugged for the photog as their float played second fiddle.
3. Work on the Chi Omega float was at a virtual standstill when the photographer visited Tuesday afternoon.

The University Choir has been giving concerts regularly at clubs and meetings. "In May we are going to Boys Town, Offutt Air Base, Optimist Club, and Lions Base, Optimist Club, and Lions Club. The Choir will be treated to dinner at Offutt and the Optimist Club," said Brewer. The Choir will also sing at Baccalaureate.

"We have already received invitations to sing for next year," he added.

Latin Revival Begins in Fall

A course in second semester Latin will be offered next fall by the University's foreign language department.

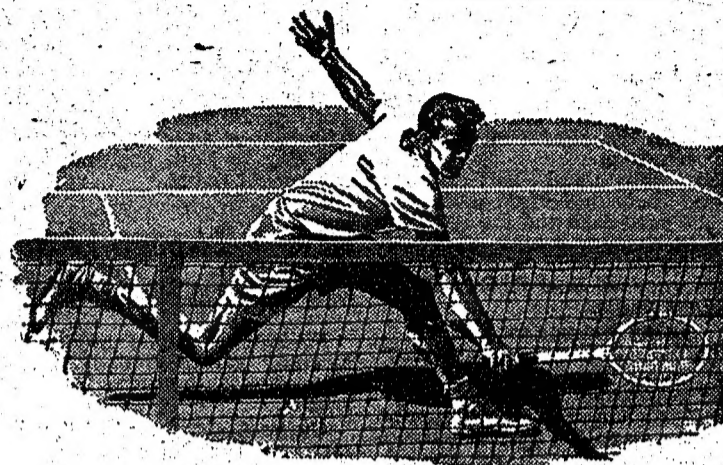

The study of Latin is being revived because of the large number of incoming students who have studied Latin in high school and have acquired 10 of the 16 required credit hours.

Latin was discontinued at the University several years ago due to insufficient enrollment in the course. In renewing the course Dr. Christopher Espinosa, chairman of the foreign language department, stated that the department feels that the course can render a great service to students in the fields of medicine, pharmacy, law and physics.

Dr. Espinosa will teach the new course.

Last Chance

The Selective Service Board is giving students one last chance to continue their schooling. A special Selective Service deferment test will be given May 21. Applications must be post marked no later than May 11. The applications are available at the Selective Service Office.

Cindermen Dominate Doane Night Relays

Coach Ernie Gorr's trackmen dominated the fifth annual Doane Night Relays with four first-places and scattered positions in many of the other events.

No team points were given, but the Indians had a slight lead in standings over a powerful Fort Hays, Kans. team. The meet included fifteen four-year colleges, five junior colleges and some high schools in the afternoon and evening activities.

Joe Nalty and Bill Barnes copped their individual events in the 100 yard dash and the 120 high hurdles. Nalty won by a yard over Koyo McGillicuddy of Fort Hays and Barnes led Doane's Don Ward by eight yards.

Bring Home Trophies

The Indians' powerful mile relay and sprint quartettes brought home two trophies for their winning time comparisons in their respective races. Bob Barnes showed tremendous speed on the second lap of the mile relay to push the team ahead of a determined Fort Hays foursome. In the sprint medley Bernie Lanson came back from the mile relay to spark the medley with a fast half mile leg.

The host team picked Miss Beverly Breiner of Grand Island as the Relays Queen. She awarded the athletes with trophies and medals through a night dominated by rain and wind. An earlier parade through Crete by 18 high schools and the Queen and her aids was spoiled by drenching showers.

Johnson Places

Larry Johnson placed second in the shotput behind Don Allely of Wesleyan. Johnson's throw of 42 ft. 7 in. was three and a half inches off the winning toss.

Graceland Junior College ran away with the Jaycee division, taking six first places in the night program. The highlight of the college was the three-way tie for first place in the high jump. Clarence Cook of Doane, Eugene Anderson of Fort Hays and John Harden of Nebraska Wesleyan all broke the formed track record of 6 ft. 1 1/2 in. set by Harden last year. The tie was met at the new height of six feet one-half inch.

The entire squad traveled to Peru yesterday for a dual meet. The contest took place too late in the day to have any information in today's paper.

Pi Kap Sweeps Three Games From Theta Chi

Pi Kappa Alpha swept three straight games from Theta Chi Thursday in the men's intramural league.

Gary Anderson was the high man for the Pikes with a series of 520. Jack Irwin was close behind with a series of 506.

ISA returned to the win column by sweeping three straight from the Sig Ep's.

The Phi Ep's have proved to be the most improved team on the alleys. After the first few weeks of bowling they were on the bottom of the pack. But they soon pulled up within the top four teams, and they should make a strong bid for the league title.

Indian Nine Faces Jays

Arch-rival Creighton University is the next opponent for the Omaha U baseball team. The Indians and Bluejays meet tomorrow night in a night game at Municipal Stadium. The Indians are pointing for this game, hoping to avenge the two basketball defeats suffered at the hands of the Jays this winter.

Creighton has lost two games so far this year. Both were by one run margins.

The Bluejay mound staff is composed mainly of freshmen and therefore is considerably inexperienced in college competition. Such former prep hurlers as Ronnie Smith, Jim McBride and Fritz Stanek are the leading pitchers. Stanek is the probable starter tomorrow night.

The leading Bluejay hitter is third baseman Wilton (Buzz) Stibbs, a converted catcher. He has hit two home runs and has compiled an average of over .400. Jerry Mancuso is another dangerous hitter.

Dick Davis is the probable Omaha mound choice.

On Monday, the Indians will play host to the tough Iowa State Cyclones, who have one of the leading teams in the Big Seven Conference. The two teams have beaten both Drake and the Iowa State Teachers. Omaha edged Drake, 6-5, while the Cyclones drubbed the Bulldogs, 26-18. Omaha tripped the Iowa Teachers 4-0

Bob Herman of Iowa State and Bob Offerjost of Omaha, the aces of both clubs, are expected to meet in the Muny Stadium tilt.

The rained out games with Augustana and Simpson have not been rescheduled and may be dropped.

have been running fairly efficient according to schedules, time and place. But they lack in one of the most important departments in athletics, and that is sportsmanship.

It doesn't matter which team is playing or what the sport is, but a bitter rivalry exists between teams that meet in intramural competition.

In a recent intramural softball game poor sportsmanship was the most outstanding thing on the field. Fists, spikes and words flew among the two squads.

Had the two teams involved concentrated on playing ball instead of punching and spiking, the game would have been much better.

This is just one of the many times intramural squads have squared off at each other. The word was going around during the basketball season that if you wanted to see a real brawl, take in an intramural game.

It's great to have a will to win, but there is such a thing as carrying it to an extreme. Men who are friends in class become bitter enemies on the field.

The intramural play is supposed to bring University students closer to each other, but at the present time it is working perfectly in the opposite direction.

If men at the University of Omaha want to keep up intramurals, they will have to change their present attitude toward sportsmanship.

Fiery 'Bugs' Redden Paces OU Baseball

Coaches and players from OU's opposing baseball teams are going to celebrate the graduation of Robert "Bugs" Redden.

Bugs has been a constant thorn in the sides of OU opponents. Since 1949 Bugs has been a regular on the Omaha nine, and since then he has been the real spark-plug of the squad.

He is the Eddie Stanky of the Indian nine. His hustling, fielding, hitting and running has made him one of the most feared men on the Omaha team.

South High Grad

Redden graduated from South High in 1942. He played four years of first team ball for the Packers. He was selected on the World-Herald's All-City team in 1942.

On graduation he entered the Navy for three years.

From 1946 until 1949 Redden played semi-pro ball with Ban's Bar, Schuyler, Oakland, David City and West Point.

"Beginner's Luck"

Bugs' many years of baseball has left him with many exciting incidents, but a homerun his first time up as an OU freshman stands out.

The hardest he ever hit in one game was against Arkansas in 1951. He collected four hits in five trips, including two doubles.

Bugs said that the 1950 Omaha U. baseball team was the best club he ever played for. That season the Indians won 12 and lost one.

Redden plays every game as if the league championship depended on it. He is the kind of player every coach wants on his ball club.

He has been approached by major league scouts many times in his long and colorful baseball career.

Four Years with OU

He is now playing his fourth year with the Omaha nine. He left OU in 1951 to serve 14 months in the Navy. He has never hit below .300 since playing for the Indians, and this year should be no exception.

With the chips down, Bugs would be the man most feared at the plate or on the basepaths. He is not the type to choke-up in the clutch.

This is one of the many reasons why OU opponents are going to celebrate the last time Bugs dons an Indian uniform.

I'm popular, I'm always sought;
The reason's plain to see—
I always have a good supply
Of Luckies right with me!

Mile Relay Team Brings Home Sanderson Trophy

Omaha University trackmen entered the Sioux City Relays last Friday and returned home with three first places, two broken school records and a trophy for their record-breaking time in the mile relay.

The mile relay quartet composed of Bob Barnes, Bob Gerdeman, Wayne Larsen and Bernie Lainsen rolled off a 3:25.8 time which broke the school record. The time divided between the individual runners would produce four 51.3 quarter miles.

The meet was held in a cold, constant drizzle which affected the times in most events. Joe Nalty continued his winning streak in the 100 yd. dash with a 10.2 effort. He won over the extremely fast Robinson of Iowa Teachers, who came within a shade of upsetting Nalty earlier in the season in an indoor meet.

Barnes Takes Hurdles

Bill Barnes won the high hurdles in 15.6 over some of the finest in the midwest. He was also a leg on the second place 880' relay team which broke the OU record. In other events, Roger Dumbler tied for first in the high jump with his two year rival from South Dakota, Jim Tays. This still leaves Roger one up on the South Dakotans in victories.

Larry Johnson placed third in the shotput, and a hurriedly constructed 440 relay squad took fourth in the event. The team found it difficult to give a winning performance in all the relays as many of the men doubled in two or more events.

Mile Relay Wins Trophy

The mile relay team brought home the Sanderson Trophy, which is given to the winning mile quartet each year. The trophy, which is presented in memory of J. M. Sanderson, former Morningside coach, travels with the winning team.

If any team can win the event three times, the award is theirs for life. South Dakota's team won the mile relay the last two years and was after the all important number three when the Indians pressed through for victory.

Trophy Displayed

The SoDaks set the record in 1951 when they literally ran away from all opposition with a 3:24.4 time. The recently won trophy will be displayed in the book store window.

Coach Ernie Gorr commended all the participants for their outstanding work and said the "desire to win is really apparent." No points were given in the meet, but Omaha tied with Idaho State and South Dakota State University with three first places apiece.

Retailing Club To Hear Marcus

L. K. Marcus, main floor merchandise manager of J. L. Brandeis and Sons will speak to members of the Retailing Club on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. The meeting will be in the Faculty Clubroom. Election of next year's officers will also be held.

Golfers Defeat Jays; Tennis Rained Out

Omaha University's golf team rolled over the Creighton Bluejays 17½ to ½ Friday. The rest of OU's matches for the week were rained out.

Rain also snuffed out the Omaha tennis team last week.

On May 11 the Omaha tennis team will meet Creighton University. On the 13th they will end season play by meeting the University of Nebraska here in Omaha.

The golf team will meet Morningside College on May 11, and the University of Nebraska on May 13. They will end their season with matches against Creighton and the University of Colorado on 15th and 19th of May, respectively.

Theta Chi Downs Independents 16-15

Theta Chi won its first intramural softball game Wednesday by coming from behind in the sixth inning to edge the Independents 16-15.

Theta Chi was behind 12 to 2 going into the sixth, but shaky fielding and wild pitching treated the fraternity men to victory.

Larry Brehm started for Theta Chi, but he had to be relieved in the third inning by Bob Williams. Williams held the Independents at bay the rest of game.

Theta Chi had dropped two previous games by one run.

Pawnees rolled over Sigma Phi Epsilon Tuesday 18-4.

Bob Mackie chuckled for the victors, limiting the Sig Ep's to five hits.

But the game is under protest because of the use of Bob Mackie. Mackie lettered last year in varsity baseball, and the Sig Ep's state that a letterman cannot participate in the intramural softball games.

All of last week's games were rained out. Theta Chi was supposed to meet Lambda Chi and Pawnees last week.

The softball season will continue until the last of May, and the rained out game will be rescheduled.

Any one interested in umpiring intramural games should check with athletic Director Ernie Gorr.

A Complicated Art

"Anyone can write a song," said the man from New York.

"Well, then, what's my problem?" asked the musical cousin.

"Your problem," sighed the man who knew, "is to find a band or an orchestra or a pretty blonde with a voice who will convince a publisher that the song will make such a hit they'll make juke box records of the number."

Minister, OU Prof, Escapes Russians

By George Georgeff

On a moonless night in 1922, two young brothers, both not more than 23 years old, stole through the dark and crossed the Russian border near the Neister River to escape Communist rule under Trotsky and Lenin.

After days of tedious travel and constant fear, the brothers—one a lawyer and the other a divinity student—finally reached their home in Besarabia, Romania.

The escape, however, was the beginning of the end for the lawyer. He was recaptured by the Communists in the early thirties and sent to the salt mines of Siberia. He died there during the war in 1941.

Ordained Minister

The divinity student, now an ordained minister, is still alive and is living in Omaha. He is Reverend Theodosia Scala.

Reverend Scala is a minister of the Holy Cross Romanian Church in Omaha. In addition to his duties in the church, he has been teaching the Russian language at the University of Omaha and at the Offutt Air Force Base since 1946.

He hopes his students will use the language as a "medium to know the Russian people and their way of thinking. It can and should be used as a soothing agent to cure the world of Communism."

Two World Groups

According to Reverend Scala, this is the problem that confronts the world at the present insofar as the language barrier is concerned:

"Essentially, the world is divided in two groups," Reverend Scala noted, "the English speaking Christian civilization of the West and the Slavish people."

"The West has made no real attempt to understand the Russians and the other Slavs, their culture, and their way of thinking."

"To live together, we must first understand each other. And when we get to know and understand them and vice versa, it is then that we can live peacefully. This is where the Russian language can play a big part," Reverend Scala concluded.

Canada Resident

Fortunately, Reverend Scala was sent to Canada by the Patriarch of the Orthodox Church in 1935 to change the church calendar. It was fortunate because Communism was budding in Romania, first in the underground and then openly.

After completing his mission for the Church, Reverend Scala settled in Alberta, where he became pastor of a small Orthodox church.

He came to this country and to Omaha in 1945, part of his ambitions attained.

Born in Besarabia

A son and grandson of Orthodox ministers, Reverend Scala was born in Besarabia. It is that niere of land that lies between Russia and Romania, which at one time belonged to Romania, but is now under complete control of the Soviet Union.

Reverend Scala, however, received his education in Russia. He went to grade school, high school, and studied five of the eight years required for the ministry in Odessa, Russia.

He was ordained in Romania in 1925 and received the Golden Medal for outstanding scholarship. It is the highest honor that can be conferred upon a student.

Following his ordination, Reverend Scala followed his father's wishes and remained in Besarabia.

Air Force Announces ROTC Policy Change

An announcement out of Washington last week has made a change in the Air Force-ROTC training program.

Beginning with next fall's semester, the Air Force will give priority to students who will start flight training after university graduation.

Previously, all students have been accepted for AF-ROTC regardless of their desire to follow up with flight training to qualify as pilots.

Air Secretary Harold Talbot stated that the need for junior officers not qualified to fly or lack technical background, are becoming more restricted. Students now enrolled in the advanced classes will not be affected by the new policy.

Elevator Congestion

Many students use the elevator now that the lock has been taken off the door. In fact, there usually is a line of students in front of the elevator doors waiting for the elevator to come.

When the elevator does come, there is a lot of congestion as students fight their way in and out of the elevator. One student last week solved the problem. Eye-witnesses swear that they saw one student charge out of the elevator with a banzi cry and a three foot wooden sword. The crowd allowed the passenger ample room to get out of the elevator.

The stick is in the elevator for the janitors to use to hold the doors open when they have to put the carts and wastebaskets in the elevator.

Donate Blood

Gamma Globulin Hits Polio

Omaha University will hold its annual blood drive next week. Blood donations this year will be used for the gamma globulin serum as well as transfusions.

Gamma globulin is that part of the human blood which contains antibodies built up in the blood stream as the result of the human body fighting the disease. These antibodies remain in the blood stream.

The antibodies can be separated from the whole blood and concentrated for injection into patients suffering from a variety of diseases, namely the prevention of paralysis of polio, measles and jaundice.

Globulin for the polio experiments for the past two years have totaled over 25,000 doses. The average dose requires the gamma globulin recovered from slightly more than one pint of whole blood.

The paralysis in polio can be prevented or minimized if the virus can be attacked by antibodies in gamma globulin before it strikes the nerve centers. When the nerve center is destroyed, the muscle that it services is paralyzed.
